

References from Recent Serendipity Guests

With your own personal trip guide and specialized guides for each activity, you'll be able to do things most companies don't offer.

The following Serendipity travelers (in no particular order) have given us permission to refer prospective guests to them. If you would like a phone number in addition to e-mail, please ask your Serendipity trip designer for those contact details.

More Testimonials...

David Barns, February 2012 : husband and wife with kids 10 & 7 for a family adventure appropriate for all ages. Waban, Massachusetts. Staciecwb @ yahoo.com

Karen Fisman, March 2012 : husband, wife and kids of 11 and 10, an adventure oriented family vacation. Toronto, Canada. kfisma175 @ rogers.com

Corinne Noyes, March 2012: wife with husband and kids aged 7, 10, 12 traveled to learn about the wildlife and culture of Costa Rica. Lexington, Massachusetts. ctnoyes @ comcast.net

Ginny Beams, March 2011: wife, husband and three kids 7, 10, and 12 to enjoy age appropriate adventures for the whole family. Mattapoisett, Massachusetts vcbeams @ verison.net

Adam Ghrist, March 2012 : three time Serendipity adventurer, Adam, and his wife and a group of friends enjoyed adventure and nature. Latrobe, PA. adam @ windswept.com

Steve Pickhard, February 2012: husband, wife and three kids (12, 16, 18) on a complete expedition style journey of Costa Rica. New Canaan, Connecticut. spickhardt @ garmark.com

Sheila McVicar, March 2011: family of four (children 14 & 16) and family friends, family of three, came together for Costa Rica expedition. Toronto, Canada. macvics @ yahoo.com

Lin Lisberger, January 2012: wife, husband and their adult children, 21 and 24 years old, on 7 day private adventure. Portland, Maine. lbl @ maine.rr.com

Ian Fincham, August 2011 : two couples in 50s and 60s, return Serendipity adventurers explored the wild rivers of Costa Rica. Montreal, Canada. ianmoyra @ bell.net

Andria Roling, August 2011: two three-generation families, educational and nature oriented expedition. Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania. rolingda @ yahoo.com

Chris Brandt, May 2011: Chris and his mother (76 years) on the Serendipity fixed date nature-oriented Jurassic expedition. Janesville, Wisconsin. dragonfly57 @ frontiernet.net

Jana Miller, March 2012 : wife, husband and three kids, 14, twins of 11, and 8 years old, adventurous travel enjoying Serendipity's premium service. Miami, Florida. Janamiller @ me.com

Bonnie Stortz, April 2012 : wife and husband, journeyed through Costa Rica with great natural world appreciation, Bonnie has Multiple Sclerosis and is a scooter-user. Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. magiczan @ rcn.com

John Sabra, March 2012 : husband, wife and two kids, 11 and 9 years old. John is a returning Serendipity adventurer. Austin, Texas. jpsabra @ gmail.com

Martha Pincus, July 2011: mom with her adult children and their spouses on a family bonding experience while adventuring through Costa Rica. Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania. Npincus @ comcast.net

Irma Venegas, March 2011 : One of many students from University of San Diego explored the natural world and adventured through Costa Rica. San Diego, California. irma.venegas @ gmail.com

The first step to enjoying a Serendipity adventures is to contact us. Toll free USA and Canada 888 226 5050; e-mail: info@serendipityadventures.com

Site Map | Contact Us | © 2012 Serendipity Adventures
<http://www.serendipityadventures.com>